Conſtantinople, February 17.

THE Captain Paſhaw will make his Voyage this Spring into the Archipelago; the Fleet under his Command is to conſiſt of ten Men of War, beſides ſome Gallies: Two Ships lately launched are to make Part of it, one is of about 50 Guns, the other of 70. The French Ambaſſador having complained of the Depredations made by the Tuniſeens upon his Maſter's Subjects, not only in the Seas of the Sultan's Dominions, but upon his Coaſts, and even in his Ports, and that by the Connivance of his Governors and Officers, and the Aſſiſtance of the People; the Vizier has let that Miniſter know, that the Sultan diſapproves all ſuch Conduct in his Officers; and that it is his Purpoſe to put to Sea in the Spring ſuch a Naval Force as ſhall be ſufficient to maintain the Tranquility of theſe Seas. The Reſident of the Queen of Hungary having communicated to the Grand Vizier the Accounts he had received of the late Succeſſes of his Court, the Vizier congratulated him thereupon, telling him, that he had alſo received all theſe Informations, and would have communicated them to him, but that he had been prevented by the neceſſary Obſervance of the Feaſt; adding, that the World would upon this Occaſion be a Witneſs of the ſincere and candid Dealings of the Porte, and the Queen ſee who were her real Friends. Our Accounts of what paſſes on the Side of Perſia are ſtill full of Uncertainties.

Genoa, March 21. Letters from Spain adviſe the Arrival of Don Philip on the 10th at Barcelona, and that 3400 Horſe had begun their March from thence the 15th Inſtant for France, and were to be followed by 21 Battallions of Foot, and that their Route was ſo ordered, that they could not reach Antibes till the latter End of April. That Count Fuenclara had been appointed Vice-Roy of the Kingdom of Peru; and that three French Regiſter Ships, richly laden, were ſailed from Cadiz for America. They write from Turin, that the Spaniſh Ambaſſador left that Place the 18th, and went for Lyons; and the Neapolitan Ambaſſador was to depart from thence as Yeſterday, and is hourly expected here. This Morning arrived a Perſon from Toulon in four Days, who reports, that the French Fleet was diſarming, and the Spaniſh Ships careening.

Ratisbon, March 27, N. S. Our Letters from the Rhine of the 13th Inſtant, bring the following Account of the actual March of the French Troops to the Relief of Bavaria. Twelve Battallions and three Companies of Dragoons are now paſſing through the Dutchy of Wurtemburg, divided into ſix Diviſions, that follow each other at two Days Diſtance; the firſt, conſiſting of two Battallions of Picardy, and one Company of Dragoons, took up its Quarters on the 11th at Radſtadt, and laſt Night at Etlingen; to Day it is at Elmendingen, and to Morrow will advance to Pfortzheim; halt on the 15th, and the following Night be at Weiſſach; the 17th at Weilendorff, and Canſtadt; the 18th at Zell and Alpach, and the 19th at Uſingen, where they will again halt for the 20th; on the 21ſt it is to arrive at Kuchen, and on the 22d at Urſpringen; the 23d at Langenau; the 24th at Brentz, and halt there on the 25th; the 26th it comes to Hochſtadt, and on the 27th to Donawerth. The ſecond Diviſion, conſiſting of the third Battallion of Picardy, one of Vivares, likewiſe of a Company of Dragoons, will arrive the 13th at Raſtadt, as will the third on the 15th, the fourth on the 17th, the fifth on the 19th, and the ſixth on the 21ſt; and will ſeverally be at Donawerth on the 6th of April. During their March, each Diviſion muſt daily have between 360 and 370 Portions of Forage, each Portion of 18 Pounds of Hay, and two Thirds of a Buſhel of Corn. Several conſiderable Parties of her Hungarian Majeſty's Troops have, within theſe few Days, paſſed the Danube at Stadt-am-Hoff and other Places in this Neighbourhood.

Berlin, March 31, N. S. Letters from Breſlau ſay, that the Hungarian Troops have taken Poſſeſſion of the Dutchy and Town of Ratisbon in Upper Sileſia.

Bruſſels, March 31. The new Levies lately raiſed in the Auſtrian Netherlands being compleat, her Hungarian Majeſty's Troops in thoſe Provinces amount to 34000 effective Men, and the Fortifications of Mons, Ath, and Charleroy have been lately repaired, and put into a good State of Defence. Letters from Francfort of the 27th and 29th Inſtant ſay, that an Imperial Decree had been publiſhed there, bearing Date the 9th of this Month, for transferring the Diet of the Empire from Ratisbon to Francfort, without Prejudice to the Prerogatives of the Town
